

Acme Cloud Privacy Policy

Information We Collect

We collect account information (name, email, company), usage data (feature interactions, log-in timestamps), and support interaction data (tickets, chat transcripts) to operate and improve our services.

How We Use Information

Customer data is used to provide the service, respond to support requests, personalize the product experience, detect fraud and abuse, and comply with legal obligations. We do not sell customer personal data to third parties.

Data Retention

Account and billing records are retained for 7 years to satisfy tax and accounting requirements. Support ticket data is retained for 3 years after ticket closure. Customers may request earlier deletion subject to legal retention requirements.

Data Sharing

We share data with sub-processors strictly necessary to deliver the service (e.g., cloud hosting, payment processing, email delivery), each bound by a data processing agreement. We do not share data with advertisers.

Customer Rights

Depending on your jurisdiction, you may have the right to access, correct, export, or delete your personal data. Requests can be submitted via the privacy@acmecloud.example mailbox and are processed within 30 days.

Security

Data is encrypted in transit (TLS 1.2+) and at rest (AES-256). Access to production data is restricted to authorized personnel and logged for audit purposes.
